HEIGHT CHART

Different types of comic book characters are depicted at different heights. You've got to match the charact type with the correct height. You're not going to see a five-foot-tall hero in comics. Not gonna happen. Over the years, some stereotypes (based on height, have fallen into place. It's in the public consciousness.

lengths tall. (The average real-life person is about 6% to 7 heads tall, but everything is exaggerated in comics.) The Hero (title leading-man type or a costumed hero) is taller, at 8 heads. Remember: the taller a character is, the bigger the body will be by comparison. A bigger-looking body translates into more power. So, the next fligure is the Antiher of a good ody, but Just barely), and he comes in at an
